Conditions of Submission

AUTHORSHIP CRITERIA:

All the authors should have substantial contributions to each of the following three components: 1. Concept and design of study or acquisition of data or analysis and interpretation of data; 2. Drafting the article or revising it critically for important intellectual content; and 3. Final approval of the version to be published. Participation solely in the acquisition of funding or the collection of data does not justify authorship as the general supervision of the research group. Each author warrants that he or she has participated sufficiently in the intellectual content, the analysis of data, if applicable, and the writing of the Work to take public responsibility for it. Each has reviewed the final version of the Work, believes it represents valid work, and approves it for publication. Moreover, should the editors of the Publication request the data upon which the work is based, they shall produce it. Each author warrants that his or her submission to the Work is original, does not infringe upon, violate, or misappropriate any copyright or other intellectual property rights, or any other proprietary right, contract or other right or interest of any third party, and that he or she has full power to enter into this agreement. Neither this Work nor a similar work has been published nor shall be submitted for publication elsewhere while under consideration by this Publication.

COPYRIGHT:

Submissions considered for publication in JPCC are received on the understanding that they have not been accepted for publication elsewhere and that all of the authors agree to the submission. The journal requires approval of manuscript submission by all authors. A cover letter signed by all authors constitutes submission approval. Manuscripts will not receive a final decision until a completed Copyright Status Form has been received. As soon as the article is published, the author is to have considered transferred his right to the publisher. This transfer will ensure the widest possible dissemination of information. All concepts, ideas, comments, manuscripts, illustrations, and all other materials disclosed or offered to the IAP intensive care chapter on or in connection with this Journal are submitted without any restrictions or expectation of confidentiality. The IAP intensive care chapter shall have no financial or other obligations to you when you do not submit such information, nor shall you assert any proprietary or moral right of any kind with respect to such submissions. The IAP intensive care chapter shall have the right to use, publish, reproduce, transmit, download, upload post, display or otherwise distribute your submissions in any manner without notice or compensation to you. Except for copyright, other proprietary rights related to the Work (e.g., patent or other rights to any process or procedure) shall be retained by the author. To reproduce any text, figures, tables, or illustrations from this Work in future works of their own, the author must obtain written permission from JPCC; such permission cannot be unreasonably withheld by JPCC.

DUPLICATE SUBMISSION AND PLAGIARISM:

Manuscripts are considered with the understanding that they have not been published previously in print or electronic format and are not under consideration by another publication or electronic medium. The authors should alert the editor if the work includes participants about which a previous report has been published. A paper submitted to the JPCC should not overlap by more than 10% with previously published work, or work submitted elsewhere. If in doubt, authors may submit copies of earlier published work or material submitted elsewhere to the editorial board of JPCC to take the decision. If plagiarism or duplicate publication is detected, authors should expect prompt rejection/retraction and editorial board's action such as barring the author from submitting articles in future, notification in the journal/website, and informing the authors' institute or other medical editors. A previously rejected article should not be resubmitted again under the original or modified title, especially if the content remains substantially same. Authors should provide full information regarding previous submission, if any.

EMBARGO POLICY:

Authors need to maintain confidentiality of contents of their manuscript, once accepted for publication. Information contained in or about the accepted articles should not be released in print/electronic form to any individual/media/agency, till the manuscript is published in JPCC. Upon acceptance of the article for publication, each author warrants that he/she will promptly remove any prior versions of this Work (normally a preprint) that may have been posted to an electronic server.

ETHICS, INFORMED CONSENT AND PATIENT ANONYMITY

Investigations on human subjects should conform to accepted ethical standards. Fully informed consent should be obtained and noted in the manuscript. For all manuscripts dealing with experimental work involving human subjects, specify that informed consent was obtained following a full explanation of the procedure (s) undertaken, and if requested by the journal's editorial board, the authors should produce the copy of ethical clearance. Patients should be referred to by number; do not use real names or initials. Also the design of special scientific research in human diseases or of animal experiments should be approved by the ethical committee of the institution or conform to guidelines on animal care and use currently applied in the country of origin. It is the author's responsibility to ensure patient's anonymity. In images or illustrations, patient's eyes should be masked. However, if the eye area is the focus of illustration, patient's nose and mouth should be masked and written consent must be obtained from the patients/legal guardian. Patients' names should be removed from the figures, radiographs, and CT scans, unless written consent is obtained

UNAUTHORIZED USE:

The copyright of all accepted and published manuscripts lies with JPCC; these cannot be reproduced elsewhere or distributed in any form, in whole or part, without the written permission from the Editor-in-Chief. Each author further warrants that he or she has obtained, prior to submission, written releases from patients whose names or likenesses are submitted as part of the Work.
